I am a young girl. My name is Silver , and my dream is to became a doctor. I like reading all the time. I don't like cooking. My brother name is Alix and he is a farmer and a fish farmer . My brother love going to farm because he like farming work .

I am hungry

One day, I was very hungry. There was no cooked food in the kitchen, and my parents and my brother were not at home. I waited and waited for them to return. When they finally arrived, I ran to them and said, I'm so hungry !

My father told me, I should learn to cook, just like my brother. I replied, I like reading because I want to become a doctor. My parents smiled and said, being a doctor is wonderful, and learning to cook is also important. One day, when i grow up and start my own family, these skills will help me .

During the holidays, my brother asked me to come to the farm with him. I don't like going to the farm, I said. Why not you Alix ? I asked, looking surprised. I just want to be a doctor, that is all I want . My brother's eyes filled with tears. He said, Farming is very important. Without it, there would be no food. Farming helps us in so many ways not just by giving us food, but also by supporting the economy, protecting the environment, and keeping people healthy.

My mother said to me, One day, i won't stay with her forever. Learning to cook is very important, even if I want to become a doctor. She smiled gently and added, becoming a doctor is noble and important, but it's also important to remember that all work matters. Every role in society plays a vital part in the world we live in.

“My friend name Lola was celebrating her birthday she invited me . I was there with her friends. Everyone was helping Lola to cook. Lola ask me i should help her to slice some salad and tomatoes and i should marinate it with olive oil. I reply my friend Lola that I only love to read and eat I don't like cooking . Everybody was laughing me telling me that is not right .

One of Lola's friends, who was helping her cook, told me that she is studying to become a lawyer, but she still helps her parents with housework. Then Lola asked me if I help my parents at home. I said no. Lola replied, That's why you couldn't help me. I felt really ashamed of myself.

When I got home, I told my mom what had happened. She smiled and said, It's not too late to learn how to cook. I can start now. I didn't waste any time. I immediately began learning to cook. The following week, I went to my brother and said, I want to come to the farm with him. My brother's face lit up with joy. He was so happy to hear that from me.

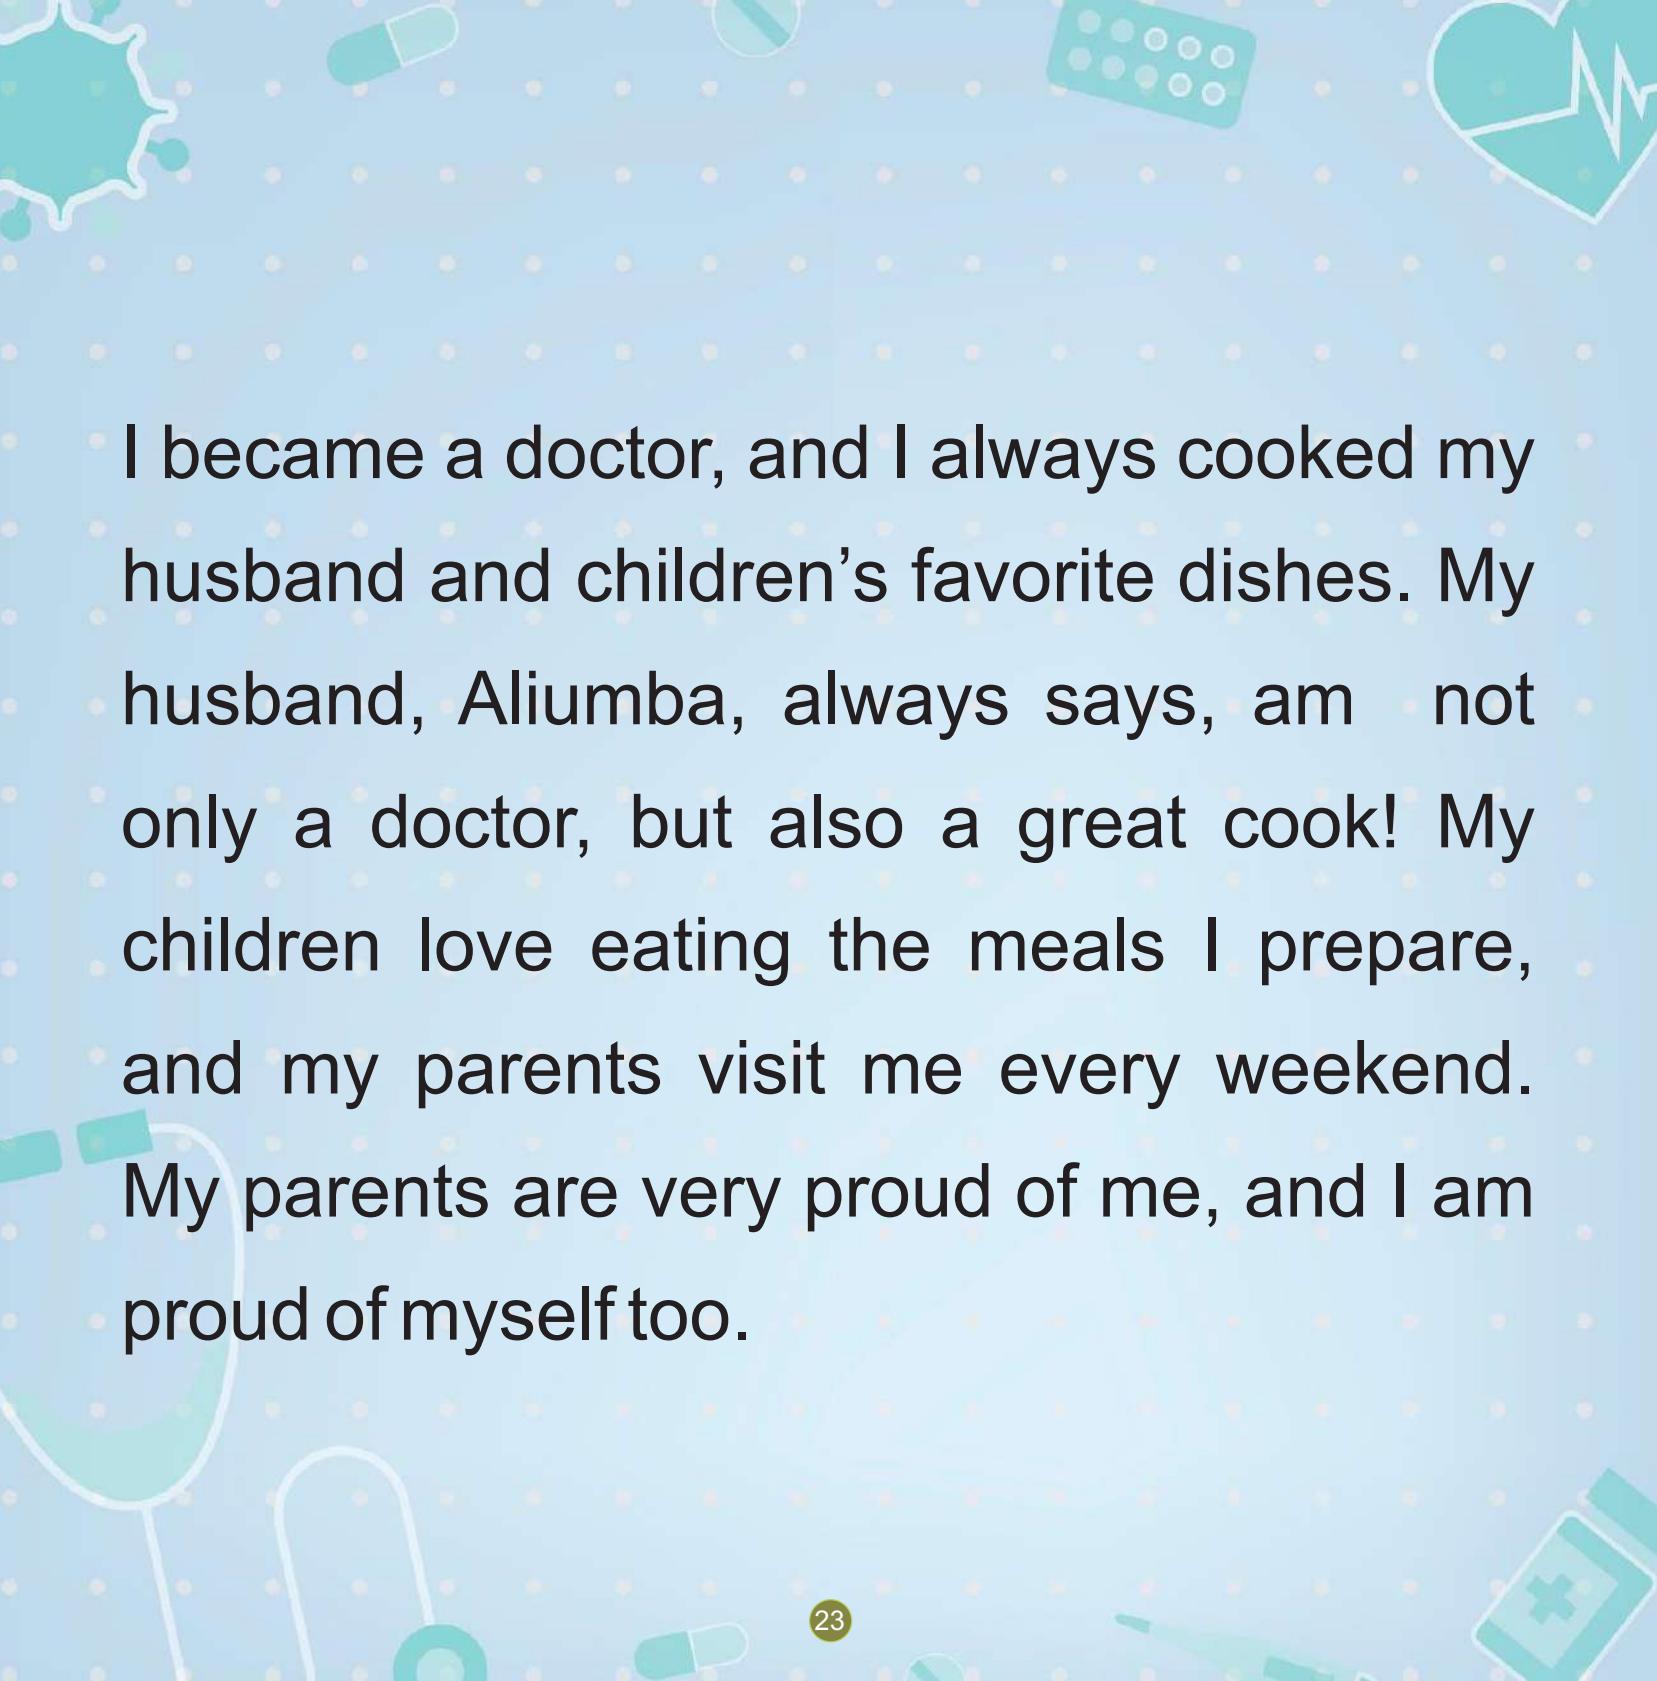

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

January 15, 1977, was my father's birthday. I prepared his favorite dish, and everyone was so happy with me. To my surprise, my father brought me a cat, and my mother brought my brother a dog. My brother's dog was named Soya, and my cat was named Mimi.

Various medical icons are scattered across the page: a green gear in the top left, a blue and white capsule, a blue and white pill, a blue and white blister pack, a green heart with a white ECG line in the top right, a blue stethoscope in the bottom left, a blue and white capsule, a blue and white pill, a blue and white blister pack, and a green and white cross symbol in the bottom right.

I became a doctor, and I always cooked my husband and children's favorite dishes. My husband, Aliumba, always says, am not only a doctor, but also a great cook! My children love eating the meals I prepare, and my parents visit me every weekend.

My parents are very proud of me, and I am proud of myself too.

I taught my children how to cook and clean. They help me with chores at home, and they are doing very well at school. Thanks to my lovely family's and friend's, I am now proud of myself.
